Father-son duo's another robbery case comes to light

'Reel' life producer narrates 'Real' life story

Mysuru, Jan. 14 (RK, MTY& BCT)- 'Baap Numbri Beta Dus Numbri' is a 1990 Bollywood comedy film where a con engineered by a father-son duo turns dastardly when the greedy father swindles his own widowed sister. While this Bollywood movie left the audience in splits, the story we are narrating here will remain etched in your memory for a long time and might even make you distrust even your close friends and relatives when it comes to cash and gold.

Prem, film producer

This is the story of a father-son duo from Mysuru who robbed their friends and relatives. Such experts they were in their criminal act, their victims did not have a clue about their clandestine activities even as they lost cash and valuables.

The father-son — 42-year-old Riyaz Shariff and his son 22-year-old Fayaz Shariff, residents of Hanumanthanagar in city — were arrested by the City Crime Branch Police in the first week of January in a case where Rs.23 lakh cash and 208 grams gold jewellery worth about Rs.6 lakh were stolen from the house of one Sunil on Dec. 31 on Pattegar Street in Mandi Mohalla. Investigating the case, the Police have now stumbled upon two more robberies committed by the father-son duo years ago and the revelations have surprised them as they had literally closed the case files as "undetected."

Producer cheated: Riyaz and Fayaz used to befriend people after making sure that they had enough cash and gold. One of their victims was Antony Patrick alias Prem, who is the producer of a recently released Kannada movie 'Athiratha.' Prem was robbed by Riyaz Shariff five years ago, that is in 2012.

Prem owns a factory that makes aluminium sheets and Riyaz used to purchase them. Riyaz too owned an aluminium shop and never used to delay payments. According to Prem, he used to make payments on time and even borrowed loans from him (Prem) which he used to return on the agreed date.

This time, he has created the 3-D painting of a tiger at Rangayana to reflect Bahuroopi-2018's theme "Migration." By painting a tiger, Baadal has conveyed a message that due to extensive deforestation that has destroyed tiger habitat, the big cats are entering human habitats. Picture shows Baadal Nanjundaswamy along with actors Jai Jagadeesh, Vijayalakshmi Singh and Mime Ramesh, former Prasaranga Director Prof. C. Naganna and others. The eight-day Bahuroopi Theatre Festival will be inaugurated by noted playwright and Jnanpith awardee Girish Karnad today at 5.30 pm at Vanaranga in Rangayana.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

MANY FACES OF NATIONALISM: Historically, the ideas of nation, nationality, and nationalism have played a progressive role by unifying fragmented communities and small, feudal Princely States that were always at war with one another. However, its ugly and violent face has also been witnessed in every modern society, including India, dividing nations on the basis of race and or religion. These two facets of nation and nationalism could be observed during India's freedom struggle. M.G. Ranade and Surendranath Banerjea of the Liberal school asked for an engagement with the past and emphasised the need for reform of Indian society. Ranade observed, "Revival, as I have said, impossible... as impossible as mass conversion into other faiths..." Continuing with the same logic, Banerjea said, "I ask you, Hindus and Mohamedans to forget your jealousies and your petty differences in the name of your common country and for the promotion of her dearest interests." How contemporary is Banerjea's statement for 21st century India?

Bal Gangadhar Tilak rejects the idea of the "alien" when he observes, "I do not consider him an alien who wishes to make an arrangement whereby the country in which he has to live, his children have to live and his future generations have to live, may see good days and be benefited." Is the Sangh Parivar listening to Tilak?

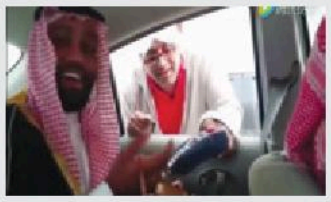
Fixing wing of butterfly using household items

Austin: Romy McCloskey, a professional costume designer from Texas, who also raises monarch butterflies as a hobby, recently received a lot of praise online, after a series of photos of her using household items to fix the deformed wing of one of her butterflies went viral. McCloskey recently, noticed that one of the insects was born with a broken left wing, and could not fly. So Romy, who describes herself as a "master hand embroiderer," decided to use her skills to help him. Using the left wing of a female monarch butterfly that had died of natural causes, as well as household supplies like a towel, a wire hanger, cement, a toothpick, and some talc powder, the amateur butterfly breeder set out to fix the delicate wing of the butterfly. The dedicated butterfly caretaker used glue to attach the wing of the dead female butterfly. Next day, she took it out to her backyard and released it. The butterfly took off and after a quick lap around the yard and a quick rest on a bush – probably to calm his nerves – the little guy flew away.

'Beggars' are rich here !



Abu Dhabi: Everyone knows that Dubai is a rich city, but not many people know it is so rich that even beggars there can earn a small fortune by asking for handouts. Begging in Dubai is so lucrative that people come into the UAE legally, on a three-month travel visa, just so they can fill their pockets on the streets. That may sound shocking, but some of these so-called "professional beggars" or "smart beggars" can earn up to Dh270,000 ($73,500) per month. That's more than most jobs pay in a year. Reports of professional beggars taking advantage of the generosity and gullibility of wealthy Dubai citizens have been showing up online for the past three years now, but despite the best efforts of local Police to eradicate the practice, it is still considered a widespread phenomenon. If anything, news headlines of beggars in the Las Vegas of the Middle East earning insane amounts of money by begging. Some sources report that there are now Arab and Asian gangs bringing beggars into Dubai legally and then taking most of their earnings.

Ordeal of car ownership transfer

Sir,

I wish to share my harrowing experience of ownership transfer of my car. I had a Ford Ikon car that I had bought in April 2006 which I wanted to sell. But though the car was in a good condition, buyers would ask for much less price.

In January last year, I went to a car dealer to buy a new car in an exchange offer. After inspecting my car, they offered a price that was satisfactory to me. After the deal, they took the original RC Book, keys of the car and other papers duly signed. They assured me that the ownership transfer would be done within two months.

But my worry started after 3 months as there was no word from the car dealer about ownership transfer. When I contacted them, a person at the dealer's office told me that my car was given to their known second-hand car dealer and requested me to wait for a fortnight.

But even after a month there was no information and I took objection to this and he gave me the contact number of the second-hand car dealer. When I called him he told me that the buyer was not available and the transfer would be done soon.

After a month I enquired at the RTO and to my surprise, the car was still in my name. My wife saw the car being driven by someone with wedding decorations. I was shocked because if the car meets with an accident or if used by someone for illegal purposes, I, as the car owner, would be penalised.

My lawyer also suggested getting the ownership transfer done. I narrated what happened and he contacted the sub-agent and asked him to submit all necessary documents to the RTO. On 19.10.2017, the records were submitted and I was assured that the ownership transfer would be done. Unfortunately it was not the case.

After three weeks I went to the RTO to verify. It was as before. Usually it takes 3 weeks for ownership change. I explained the case to Office Superintendent and when scrutinised, it was found that the file of my car was not traceable! They said that the file might have gone missing while shifting office files as it was more than 11 years old.

The search continued till December 2017. On 3.1.2018, the ownership transfer took place finally and I want to thank Madhura, Office Superintendent and Radha, Section Head, RTO Mysuru, for solving my problem.

Points to learn

• Do not handover cars after sale without ownership transfer. • Better to take the buyer to RTO personally and get acknowledgements for documents submitted. • Be careful with exchange offers before handing over documents.

Why take the name of donkeys when Congress has horses? Sreenivasa Prasad asks CM

Sreenivasa Prasad

Siddharamaiah

Mysuru, Jan. 14 (MTY&DM)- Mysuru, Jan. 14 (MTY&DM) - Stating that there are a number of horses in the Congress to stake claim for the CM's post, senior BJP leader and former Minister V. Sreenivasa Prasad has asked Chief Minister Siddharamaiah why he has taken the name of a donkey for the CM's post.

Speaking to press persons at a private hotel here on Saturday, Prasad, referring to PWD Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa's recent statement that dogs bark at elephant, in an indirect reference to him (Prasad), the BJP leader said that there were many dalit leaders like Mallikarjun Kharge, Dr. G. Parameshwara and K.M. Muniyappa, who were capable of becoming the CM and Siddharamaiah is neglecting their seniority and is projecting Dr. Mahadevappa cunningly.

Claiming that the people of the State are intelligent enough to understand who is a dog and who is an elephant, Prasad asked Siddharamaiah why he was batting for a donkey, in an indirect reference to Dr. Mahadevappa, when there were a number of horses in the Congress party.

Prasad also wondered why Siddharamaiah has stopped making statements that he will be the CM again.

Continuing his tirade against the CM, Prasad said that Siddharamaiah and other Congress leaders may be insane when they say that AICC President Rahul Gandhi will become the PM in 2019.

Ridiculing Rahul Gandhi's appointment as AICC President when he has a record in defeats, Prasad maintained that Sonia Gandhi, who could never make her own speech, had been AICC President for 19 years.

Terming Siddharamaiah's statement likening RSS, Bajrang Dal and other Hindu outfits members to terrorists, the BJP leader said it was an irresponsible statement.

Alleging that the CM has no hold on his words, he accused him (CM) of issuing provocative statements and failing to promote peace and harmony in the society. Vowing to teach a lesson to Siddharamaiah in the coming Assembly polls, Prasad thundered that the CM will come to know who he (Prasad) is in the second week of February.

Former MUDA Chairman K.R. Mohan Kumar, City BJP President Dr. B.H. Manjunath, H.V. Rajeev, Shivanna and others were present at the press meet.

Bengaluru, Jan.14- The Lingayat Camp fighting for a separate religion has decided to formally break away from the Akhila Bharata Veerashaiva Mahasabha and create a new Vishwa Lingayat Parishat on Jan.23 to carry forward its campaign.

Speaking to press persons here yesterday, retired IAS officer S.M. Jamdar, who is spearheading the Lingayat religion campaign, said that the decision to create the Vishwa Lingayat Parishat is the result of unfruitful attempts to make peace with the Akhila Bharata Veerashaiva Mahasabha. The new forum will be launched in Bengaluru on Jan. 23 and will be for all Lingayats across the globe to come together. The formation of the Vishwa Lingayat Parishat seeks to challenge the powerful clout of the 114 year old Akhila Bharata Veershaiva Mahasabha, which argues Veerashaivas and Lingayats are the same.

Maintaining that they tried to work with the Veerashaiva Mahasabha for the past eight months to iron out the differences, Jamdar said it was unfortunate that the Mahasabha tone remains the same and as such, they were left with no choice.

The Vishwa Lingayat Parishat will be different in that it will have a youth wing (Basava Sene), a professionals cell, a women call and a platform for Lingayats living overseas, he said and added that the Parishat will launch a membership drive soon.

Jamdar refused to comment on the Expert Committee constituted by the Government seeking six more months to submit its report on demands for separate religion status.

Folklore Ensemble at Articulate Festival in city on Jan. 16

Articulate Festival has been successfully satiating the cultural thirst of Mysuru's discerning dance art lovers. Hitherto the festival focused on classical dances of India and now ventures into bringing on stage folk traditions that has stood the test of time.

In its first festival of the year focusing on the folk tradition, it brings the Karnataka Janapada culture and a visiting Folk ensemble from the European country Lithuania, to stage and share their respective traditions.

What generally gets to be seen in countrysides and street acts, dance-lovers can watch in the comforts of an auditorium and relish the beauty of the rustic and yet simple arts of people of the earth. This is in collaboration with ICCR, Ministry of Culture and Vidya Vikas Educational Trust, Mysuru.

"Ratilio" ensemble from Lithuania, Europe, will present folk dances and live folk music, while their Indian counterparts, "Adi Dravida Samskrutika Kala Tanda," based in Mysuru presents our own Dravida culture.

"Ratilio" Folk Ensemble

Vilnius University Folklore Ensemble "Ratilio" was founded in 1968. The name "Ratilio" occurs in some Lithuanian folk songs and is derived from the word 'Ratas,' meaning "circle, wheel."

Young people studying various subjects — Philology, Physics, Medicine, Biology, Mathematics, etc. — take part in the ensembles' activities. Songs, dances and round dances are learned from folklore collections and from compatriots met during annual folklore expeditions.

One can listen to ancient musical instrument such as ragai (horns), daudytė, skudučiai (pan-pipes) and kanklės (a type of nine to five-stringed zither). A special part of the programme is formed by the archaic Lithuanian folklore genre of multipart harmonious singing the "sutartinė" (included in the UNESCO list of intangible cultural heritage in 2010).

They averred that the Congress government was supporting outfits like PFI and SDPI. They questioned as to why RSS activists were not arrested if they were indeed terrorists. They sought immediate apology from KPCC Working President Dinesh Gundu Rao and Chief Minister Siddharamaiah for levelling such a baseless remark on RSS activists. They contended that former PM Atal Behari Vajpayee, Prime Minister Narendra Modi and President Ram Nath Kovind have ties with RSS and speaking ill of the Sangh was highly condemnable. BJP leaders H.V. Rajeev, Mallappagowda, B.M. Nataraj, B.V. Manjunath and others took part in the stage.

Father-son duo's another robbery case comes to light

"Sometimes, he used to bring huge amount of cash and give it to me telling me that there was no safe place at his house to keep the cash. I used to oblige him as he had gained my trust. Now I realise that while giving me cash, Riyaz used to observe the places where I kept cash and somehow he managed to make duplicate keys of the shelves," Prem said.

"Riyaz was like my brother and he used to take my car often. Even in my wildest dreams I could not imagine that he would have made the duplicate keys. On October 10, 2012, I and my family had been to Bengaluru and my house was robbed and Rs. 7.5 lakh cash and 70 gram gold were stolen from a shelf in the bedroom," Prem said.

The case was registered at the Narasimharaja Police Station. "When the Police asked me if I had suspected someone in the theft, I did not take Riyaz's name as he was like my brother and I had given some other names to the Police. The case remained unsolved," Prem said.

A Smart Alec that he is, in 2013, Riyaz again robbed Prem's house and this time, he took away Rs. 1.5 lakh cash that was kept in the same shelf. "I had again complained to the N.R. Police and this case too remained unsolved," Prem said.

Prem said that last year, Riyaz had borrowed some money from him for business and had removed a boy who worked in his shop. "The boy came to my factory and told me that Riyaz had information about the theft that took place in my house. Though I was taken aback, I did not suspect Riyaz and even if I had raised the issue, I feared that he would not return my money," he said.

Prem said that Riyaz, who never defaulted on loan repayments, did not contact him since six months. "Only now when the Police have arrested him, I can connect the dots. It is really shocking how people close to you cheat," he said.

ONE MORE THEFT

Police told Star of Mysore that during interrogation, Riyaz Shariff and Fayaz Shariff said that they took to crime as they had to conduct family ceremonies and lead a lavish life. Of the money robbed from Prem's house, a part of it was used for the marriage of Riyaz's daughter at Chamarajanagar.

The Police said that during his daughter's wedding, he had robbed the house of his relative Shafiullah while the latter was at the ceremony. Here too, Riyaz used duplicate keys and stole Rs. 1 lakh cash and 100 grams gold. Police said that they had managed to recover all the gold stolen while the father-son duo had emptied the cash.

Riyaz Shariff and Fayaz Shariff were produced in a court on Jan. 12 and they are cooling their heels in the jail now. CCB ACP B.R. Lingappa supervised the nabbing operation by CCB Inspector R. Jagadish, ASI Chandregowda and staff M.R. Ganesh, Yakub Shariff, C.N. Shivaraju, Laskshmikanth, Niranjan, Prakash, Rajendra and Anand.

Is Chief Justice of India

Dipak Misra targeted? If so, why?

At a press conference held on Friday, 12th January at Justice Jasti Chelameswar's house in New Delhi, Justices Ranjan Gogoi, Chelameswar, Madan B. Lokur and Kurian Joseph targeted Chief Justice of India (CJI) Dipak Misra. Here is a message that is being widely circulated on social media explaining why the Chief Justice was targeted:

Dipak Misra

• Two days back, CJI Dipak Misra ordered a special investigation team (SIT) to reopen 1984 Sikh riots cases and investigate 186 cases related to it.

• It was Dipak Misra who intervened and ensured that terrorist Yakub Memon is hanged for 1993 Mumbai terror attack.

• Dipak Misra was appointed by Narendra Modi Government.

• Last month, CJI Dipak Misra slammed Kapil Sibal when he asked to postpone the judgement of Ram Janmabhoomi case after July 2019. Justice Dipak Misra is leading the bench which will pass judgement on Rama-Janmabhoomi case.

• The judges collegium, everyone knows is a part of the "ecosystem" created over the last 7 decades and has always thwarted efforts to let "outsiders" come in the circle. It was this collegium which Modi Government wanted to dismantle through National Judicial Appointments Commission (NJAC) and wanted that people's representatives should have a say in Judges Appointment. The entire Judiciary ably supported by Congress derailed the entire activity and refused to comply.

• The campaign against Dipak Misra, maligning the CJI (a constitutional post) baselessly and asking for his impeachment a day after he ordered reopening of Sikh riots case and is set to pass judgement on Rama-Janmabhoomi case shows the power of ecosystem.

The message also throws light on the other judges who cast aspersions at Dipak Misra.

• Justice Jasti Chelameswar, Justices Ranjan Gogoi, Madan B. Lokur and Kurian Joseph opposed the government plan to make Aadhaar mandatory. If Aadhaar was made mandatory, crores of benami properties, bank accounts and real estate deals would be exposed.

• After the press conference, senior CPM leader D. Raja visited Justice Chelameswar's house and held a meeting. Why did a politician visit the judge's house? Raja is famous for mocking Hindus and Hindu gods and goddesses.

• The four judges are supported by people like advocate Prashanth Bhushan who is Left sympathiser and has a heart for Naxalites.

• All the four rebel judges are supported by Advocate K.T.S. Tulsi.

• Advocate K.T.S. Tulsi is the same person who is hell-bent to prove Robert Vadra an innocent in land grab and other corruption cases. Tulsi also saved terrorist Devinder Singh Bhullar from hanging and soon thereafter he was made the Rajya Sabha member by the then UPA Government.

Every stone narrates (hi)story

Stones do speak to Historians: Expert

Prof. M.K. Mruthyunjaya seen addressing the students at Mahajana College.

Mysuru, Jan. 14 - "Do stones speak? Yes! They do speak to a historian," said Prof. M.K. Mruthyunjaya, who spoke on the art and architecture of Hoysala period, at a lecture organised by the Department of History, SBRR Mahajana First Grade College, here recently.

Speaking on the importance of stones as a source of history, Prof. Mruthyunjaya, a retired Professor of History, Mirle Government College, said, "Stone inscriptions, murals and monuments chronicle the stories of war and many incidents of those times. They are a direct source of information of what happened and much more. Thus, they unravel known and lesser known facts."

Elaborating on the Hoysala architecture, he said, "Of the many styles of Indian architecture, Hoysala style is the most important one among other styles such as Dravidian style, Naagara style, Vesara style etc."

The most frequented tourist places Belur and Halebeedu house the temples, which speak volumes about the rich, intrinsic art apart from the skill of the talented sculptors, who have etched their name not only in history but also on the friezes, which a careful researcher can decipher."

Prof. Mruthyunjaya pointed out that the temple architecture of the Hoysalas has its own unique features. They are built of blackish stone, popularly known as soapstone. The stellate or the star-shaped plan is an originality introduced by the Hoysala artists. The jagati or the platform that one notices in the Hoysala temples is usually three to four feet in height. The temple is built on a jagati bearing in mind that according to Hindu dharma the temple must be seen from a far off distance.

Another salient feature of the Hoysala temples is having pierced stone screens or windows, also called jalandhras. The main intention of these windows is to allow sufficient air and light into the interior of the temple. The bracket figures called by various names such as Salabhanjika, Madanikai, Puthali, Silabalika etc., are young damsels shown in various moods such as decorating, singing, dancing, hunting, talking to parrot etc., he said.

The Hoysala temples can be divided into five groups depending on the number of garbhagrihas they possess such as Ekakuta, Dvikuta, Trikuta, Chatushkuta and Panchakuta. Some of the well-known temples built during the rule of the Hoysala dynasty are: Cheluvanarayana Temple at Melukote, Lakshmivaradaraja Temple at Therakanambi, Somanatha temple at Arasikere and other places. Though most of the temples are Shivalayas, the Hoysalas encouraged building of Vaishnava Devalayas and Jaina Basidis, which is enough proof to say that people of different sects lived in religious harmony, said Prof. Mruthyunjaya.

Dr. Sridhar, Head of the Department of History, staff and students were present.

Brahminical class armed to finish Kuvempu: NSD Director

Kuvempu Basavalingaiah

Mysuru, Jan. 14 (YDS&NNN)- The Brahminical class has finished Swami Vivekananda who preached equality. They are on the verge of 'annihilating' Dr. Ambedkar and now getting armed to wipe out Poet Laureate Kuvempu, said National School of Drama (NSD) Bengaluru Centre Director C. Basavalingaiah.

He was speaking during the valedictory ceremony of Kuvempu Vishwamanava Sandesha Jatha, organised by Manava Bhanduthva Vedike at BM Shri auditorium in Manasagangothri, here recently.

The people of the State should be on high alert to see that they are not influenced by the hijack culture. Otherwise, there is no doubt that Karnataka will become another Bihar, he said.

How could the Muslims who ruled for over 600 years become outsiders? Who is poisoning the minds of the youth with this image, he asked. No one could imagine that Dakshina Kannada District where revered Gurus stayed could turn into a communal cauldron.

"The Brahminical class in the country does not keep the enemy in the front. Instead, it has merged it into our minds. Kuvempu and Pampa are like two shores in Kannada literature. There is a conspiracy going on to turn it upside down. There was a class of people who insulted Kuvempu when he wrote Shri Ramayana Darshanam, saying that he was not a poet. When he penned Shudra Tapasvi play, they said he was not a dramatist," he said and added that the atmosphere is so charged that they would not hesitate to paint Kuvempu in saffron in the coming days as they have painted a Police Station in Uttar Pradesh with the same colour.

The digital media is responsible for breaking the idea of inclusiveness and diversity in the country. The television media is also adding fuel to the fire. It is very important to reach Basavanna's verses, Sarvajna's tripadis and Kuvempu's poems to the people, the former Rangayana Director said.

Litterateur Prof. C.P. Krishnakumar, who inaugurated the programme, said that half-baked knowledge is more dangerous than complete ignorance. "Science teachers who after teaching science in the classes go home and look at Rahukala-Gulikala are not teachers at all. They are 'donkeys carrying science' is how Kuvempu used to describe them," he recalled.

Many great scholars have not understood Kuvempu's Vishwamanava (Universal Man) concept. "I tried to write several letters in this regard to make them understand. But he used to tell me to stop writing, as they are filled with ignorance," he said.

Kuvempu Institute of Kannada Studies Director Dr. Priti Srimandhar kumar, actor Chethan, District Kannada Sahitya Parishat President Dr. Y.D. Rajanna and Manava Bhanduthva Vedike convenor Wilfred D'Souza were present.

THIS Week

Talented Golfer- Pranavi S. Urs

Golf is a sport that attracts more players than any other outdoor sport. One of the reasons is the beautiful surroundings and the pleasure of being on the course to share this experience amongst friends and nature. To be able to perform successfully on such a playing field demands the ability to analyse and adjust to variable elements.

This game is played and partonised in Mysuru at the Jayachamaraja Wadiyar Golf Course and the JWGC has played a big part in producing talented golfers in different levels from time to time. One such product out of their junior programme is talented golfer Pranavi S. Urs, who representing India and taking part in the IIFL Wealth Invitational FALDO Series India Qualifier golf tournament at KGA, Bengaluru, from Jan.8-11, emerged as the overall winner in the girls section with a three-day aggregate score of 223 (73+71+79) on Thursday. She is our "Star This Week."

Pranavi Urs also won the girls U-16 title with her excellent performance. Anika Verma finished runner-up with a three-day card of 223 (73+74+76). Sifat Sagoo secured the third place with a three-day aggregate score of 230 (73+78+79). Pranavi will represent India in the Faldo Series Asia Final in Vietnam in early March against the best players in the continent and a win there can take her to the world final while earning significant additional world ranking points.

Pranavi S. Urs

Pranavi recently taking part in the IGU YES Bank Army Ladies and junior girls championships 2017 at New Delhi won three titles in the Category A & B-Ladies, category A & B and Category 'B' sections to win a triple crown.

She also represented India in the Duke of York young champions trophy in Sept. 2017 in Liverpool, England and gained valuable exposure playing in the tournament. Earlier, Pranavi taking part in Hero Pro golf tour 2017 at Bidadi from July 5-7 won her first women's amateur title.

Pranavi Urs, an eighth standard student at National Public School, Mysuru, recently represented Indian Ladies Amateur golf time in the Malaysian open and Asia Pacific Queen Sirkit Cup at China from May 7-13 and performed well in both the tournaments. Earlier she earned selection to the Indian team by finishing second in the National Amateur golf team trials held at Delhi in February 2017.

Pranavi is the daughter of Sharath Chandra Raj Urs and Kaivalya Urs, who are residents at Lakshmipuram in Mysuru. Pranavi, encouraged by her parents, took to playing golf at the age of 8 and after her success in the South Zone sub-junior golf tournament the next year, she took up to the game seriously and has made steady progress since then.

Pranavi intends to train hard for her future tournaments and fare well in the International tournaments representing the country and also in the National level. With excellent support from her parents, her school and JWGC, hope this talented golfer achieves her goal.

Aadhaar Breach: UIDAI introduces Virtual ID

New Delhi, Jan. 14 - The Unique Identification Authority of India (UIDAI) introduced 'Virtual ID' (VID) and limited 'Know Your Customer' (KYC) service for Aadhaar holders in a bid to address privacy concerns, on Jan. 10.

With the introduction of 'Virtual ID,' a fungible number mapped to the Aadhaar number, holders will be given an option to not share their 12-digit biometric code, stated UIDAI in a notification.

It will be a temporary and revocable 16-digit, randomly-generated number, which will be used for authentication. Moreover, it will not be possible to derive the Aadhaar number from VID.

The VID of the user would give any authorised agency like a mobile company, limited details like name, address and photograph. It will not be possible to locate one's Aadhaar number based on this ID.

Additionally, as per the UIDAI, agencies that undertake authentication would not be allowed to generate the VID on behalf of the Aadhaar holder.

It can only be generated by the Aadhaar number holder and the UIDAI will provide various options to the holders to generate, retrieve, and replace the VID.

While the VID allows Aadhar holders to avoid sharing the number, the UIDAI has taken an additional step to ensure that the storage of Aadhaar numbers within various databases is regulated.

The limited KYC will allow agencies to undertake a paperless KYC process without access to the Aadhaar number. The Aadhaar-issuing body will start accepting Virtual ID from Mar.1, 2018.

It will be compulsory for all agencies that undertake authentication to accept the Virtual ID from their users from June 1, 2018.

Things to know about 'Virtual ID' (VID)

1. The Virtual ID, which would be a random 16-digit number, together with biometrics of the user would give limited details like name, address and photograph, which are enough for any verification.

2. This will give the users the option of not sharing their Aadhaar number at the time of authentication.

3. A user can generate as many Virtual IDs as he or she wants, said officials. The older VID gets automatically cancelled once a fresh one is generated.

4. VID will be a temporary 16-digit random number mapped with the Aadhaar number. Last digit of the VID is the checksum using 'Verhoeff' algorithm as in Aadhaar number. There will be only one active and valid VID for an Aadhaar number at any given time.

The "Verhoeff" algorithm is a checksum formula for error detection developed by Dutch Mathematician Jacobus Verhoeff and was first published in 1969.

5. VID, by design being temporary, cannot be used by agencies for de-duplication. VID is revocable and can be replaced by a new one by Aadhaar number holder after the minimum validity period set by UIDAI policy.

6. The Aadhaar-issuing body, UIDAI, will start accepting VID from Mar. 1, 2018. From June 1, 2018 it will be compulsory for all agencies that undertake authentication to accept Virtual ID from their users.

7. VID will also reduce the collection of Aadhaar numbers by various agencies.

8. As many as 119 crore biometric identifiers have been issued so far and Aadhaar is required as an identity proof of residents by various government and non-government entities.
